FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Stocks and Bonds. New York. March 16 -There was an impression after the closing of business yesterday that the passage of the Bland eigniorage bill would result in bringing out long stocks for foreign account and operators for higher prices accordingly were inclined to be somewhat depressed. Instead of selling however, London bought a little. The bears met another disappointment when the engagement of $1,250,000 gold for shipment to London temorrow failed to exercise the slightest row failed to exercise the slightest unfavorable influence on stock prices. So far at the reports that the president will permit the Bland bill to become a law are concerned it may not be out of place to reiterate previous statements that the best opinion here is that the measure will not receive executive sanction. The market dragged along until near the close when there was a spread of activity but, notwithstanding this spurt, the transactions for the day were of activity but, notwithstanding this spurt, the transactions for the day were only 183,000 shares. There were some wide fluctuations in the Industrials, Cordage moving up from 194 to 21½; Lend ranged from 33 to 34½; American Sugar declined ½ to 88% ex-dividend, and rose to and closed at 91; Ghicago Gas was weak falling lefter an arriver. weak, falling 1% after an early rise. The grangers and trunk lines were firm, very little attention having been paid to the re-duction in east-bound grain rates from Unicago. The market closed active and Dun's Review of Trade Says Prices Are the Lowest Ever Knowa.

IMPROVEMENT IS STEADY

Much of the New Activity in Building Circles Is Attributed to the Unexampled Cheapness of Structural Materials, and to the Cheapness General, Though, That the Bottom Has Been Reached and That Pro-General Scale.

Week by week, says Dun, it is found possible by an increasing number of concerns to revive production with a general range of prices the lowest ever known. As old stocks give out, orders for replenishment are first for cheaper goods than have before been chosen, traders therein representing consumers who are compelled or desire to live more cheaply. Then the quantities ordered are so much smaller than the industries have been accustomed to supply, and so far below the capacity of works that the competition drives prices in each grade down to or below actual cost, squeezing out profits and forcing down wages. Yet the profits and the wages are the fund from which future pur-chases for consumption must be made. It is nuder such conditions that more works are going into operation, many with a doubt how long they may be able to operate. Thus the measure of resumption by works or hands or hours of labor is not a measure of the revival in business, rither as to quantity or values of goods distributed.

further contracts have thus been se-cured. Pittsburg gets the lion's share, and has most of its work in operation Rails are inactive and deliveries every where are the lowest for many years. Cheapness of material and labor stimulates the erection of many buildings, both east and west. Pig iron does not change in price, but sales are somewhat more easy.

The volume of business represented by all clearings this week Is 31 2 per cent. less than a year ago, and at all cities, outside New York, 21.4 per cent, less, against 17.4 per cent, last week. Railroad earnings make a bet-ter comparison, falling but 10.6 per cent, below last year's for the first week of March against 13.7 per cent, in February; but the gain is in part because trunk lines have cut rates and secured, for the first week in a long terprise of prudence and frugulity." time, a larger east-bound movement stocks have been remarkably steady.

And have slightly advanced the past

Louis Globe-De

Monetary conditions have been grow-ing more favorable, though it is impossible to say how far they may be changed by the passage of the seigniorage bill. The treasury has been improving its condition, for while customs revenue this month has been 45 per cent less than last year, there is some recent increase in internal revenue through removal of spirits rom bond to avoid-a higher tax. There is no demand for commercial ioans. Exports of products are 40 per cent above and imports 38 below last year's for the month thus var. Failures for the week is 261 in the United States against 190 last year, and 55 in Canada (gainst 3) last year. The absence of Pitteburg region, show about 75 per cant of the operatives working and not many of the remaining 25 per cent. are dependent upon public charity. Many of the iron, steel and glass workers are in such circumstances that they could live comfortably in idleness for several years without assistance from any source. Within the past ten days there have been frequent notices of resump-tion of work at various industrial establishments in the Pittsburg district, and other indications are that a general improvement has set in.

Independent coul operators tell the Philadelphia Times that there has been a drop in coal prices, due to the warm weather. The decline has been on discount of spring prices, which will be fixed on the 29th instant. The demand for broken and egg sizes is better than that for stove and chestnut, owing to the fact that there is not sufficient to meet the demand for pea and buck-wheat sizes. The trade is in a waiting condition and with the official establishment of a lower basis considerable business is expected to result. Prices at New York are quoted as follows: Broken, $3 40 to $3 50; egg, $3 50 to $3 00; stove, $3 75 to $4; chestau, $3,75

The coal operators of the American, George's Creek, Consolidation, New Central, Maryland, Barton, Franklin and other mines in the Cumberland, Md., region will meet in Philadelphia today to determine the wage rate for the ensuing year.

The 10-inch mill of the Pennsylvania Bolt and Nat works will start work today after a shut down of two weeks. The two other idle mills of this city are expected to follow suit speedily.

All departments of the Fishback mills of the Pottsville Iron and Steel company are now working full blast. There will be work for the men for some time to come.

WHEN PAPER WAS SCARCE.

An Appeal of a Century Ago to Save Your Rags." Paper was so scarce when the American army entered Philadelphia upon the evacuation of the British troops that there was a want of paper fitted for the construction of cartridges. It was advertised for and but a small quantity procured. An order was then issued demanding its instant production by all the people in that city

This produced but little more, very probably on account of its searcity. A file of soldiers was then ordered to make search for it in every place where any was likely to be found. Among other places visited in July was a garret in the house in which Benjamin Franklin had previously had his printing office.

Here were discovered about 500 copies of a sermon which the Rev. Gilbert Tenant and Abundance of Labor-Belief Is had written-printed by Franklin-upon "Defensive War" to arouse the colonists during the French troubles. The were all taken and used as cases for musket car duction Must Be Renewed on a tridges and at once sent to the armory Most of them were used at the battle of Monmouth. The requisites in cartridge paper were, of course, thinness, strength, pliability and inflammability, and such paper then was necessarily scarce.

In 1781 paper was so scarce that in New York the journal of the second session of the assembly was not printed the printer being unable to procure the new sarry pa-per. Horner, in his "Biblioth ca Amer-icana"—1789—informs us that "at this time the people of North America manufactured their own paper and in sufficient quantities for home consumption, but the price of labor was so high as to discourage publishing beyond their own laws, pamphlets and newspapers." Some two years after this date David Bull, postmaster of Troy, N. Y., published the following homily under the head "Please Save Your Rags:

"The press contributes more to the diffusion of knowledge and information than any other medium. Itags are the primary requisite in the manufacture of paper, and without paper the newspapers of our country, those cheap, useful and agreeable com-panions of the citizen and farmer, which in a political and moral view are of the highest national importance, must decline and be extinguished. The paper mills of the state, would the poor and the opulent, the farmer and the mechanic, be persuaded into the laudable frugality of saving rags, would turn out ample supplies of American paper to answer all demands.

"The people of Massachusetts and Connecticut, with true American zeal, have introduced this exemplary saving into the economy of their houses. The latter, by fair calculation, makes yearly a saving of rags to the actual amount of $50,000. The ladies in several large towns display an elegant workbeg as part of the furniture of their parlors, in which every rag that is used in the paper mill is carefully pre-served. Were this example initiated this state would not be drained of its circulating each for paper and other manufactures which American artists can furnish.

"The poor by the mere saving of rags may be enabled to procure paper and books for schools and family use and more agreeable articles of dress and consumption The rich who regard the interest of their country will direct their children or domestics to place a bag or box in some convenient place as a deposit for rags, that none may be lost by being swept into the street or fire, the sales of which saving will reward the attention of the faithful servant and encourage the prosperous en-time, a larger cast-total a year ago. The than was recorded a year ago. The fast that in 1810 the number of paper mills west-bound movement is also larger in the United States was estimated at 185, dry goods and groceries. Railway of which to were in Pennsylvania.—St. The industries of the country grew so fast that in 1810 the number of paper mills

Chinese Poetry In English Verse.

For many centuries the Chinese nation has closely cultivated the poetic art and still turns out annually more poetry than all the rest of the world put together. All modern Chinese statesmen are poets more or less. The late Marquis Tseng, who taught himself English with only the aid of a Murray's grammar and a Nuttall's dictionary, began early to drop into poetry. The following "Ode at Parting" was handed by him to an English fellow traveler on one of the local steamers:

When we reached the mouth of the river, See now the ocean red!

Very glad to meet you And talk on the captain's bed. Poets, properly so called, are not to be ound in China at the present day. A poet against 3) last year. The absence of important embarrassment is still most encouraging.

A careful investigation of the operations of mills and glass houses in the little of the control of the operations of mills and glass houses in the little of the control of the operations of mills and glass houses in the little of the control of t of age he judited the following impromptu:

TO A FIREFLY.
Rain cannot queach thy lantern's light;
Wind makes it shine more brightly bright.

Oh, why not fly to heaven afar And twinkle near the moon-a star? -Nineteenth Century.
